

HR Privacy Policy

1. Employee Information

The company collects employee information such as name, address, contact details, educational qualifications, salary details, and identification documents for HR purposes.

2. Data Protection

All employee data is stored securely and accessed only by authorized HR personnel. The organization follows strict confidentiality measures.

3. Use of Data

Employee information is used only for payroll, attendance, recruitment, compliance, performance evaluation, and company communication purposes.

4. Confidentiality

Employees must maintain confidentiality regarding company information, client details, and internal processes.

5. Access Control

Only authorized employees can access HR systems and sensitive information.

6. Internet and Email Usage

Company internet and email systems must be used for professional purposes only.

7. Security Measures

Employees should use strong passwords and avoid sharing login credentials.

8. Policy Violations

Violation of privacy policies may lead to disciplinary action including termination.

9. Employee Rights

Employees can request corrections to inaccurate personal information maintained by HR.

10. Policy Updates

The company reserves the right to update privacy policies when necessary.